ABOUT JOANNA

Joanna, a dedicated and experienced potty training coach with over three decades of expertise, is celebrated for her impactful work as a child therapist, positively influencing countless families. Throughout her extensive career, Joanna recognized a significant void in services catering to children and parents navigating the challenges of timely potty training before the commencement of school. Acknowledging the non-clinical yet deeply stressful and often embarrassing nature of these difficulties, Joanna has committed herself to aiding families in this crucial phase.

Her objective is to alleviate the anxiety surrounding accidents and cultivate complete mastery over toileting routines. Setting the benchmark in Potty Training Coaching, Joanna is wholeheartedly dedicated to assisting parents through one of early childhood's most challenging yet rewarding milestones. Leveraging her expertise in Art Therapy, child development, and behavioral science, Joanna seamlessly integrates practical strategies, tangible tools, and a compassionate approach to empower both parents and children on their potty training journey.
